JULES ARCENEAUX ENLISTS IN NAVAL AVIATION

First Bay St. Louis Boy To Enlist Under New Pro- gram For 17-Year Olds.

Lt. Commander L. C. Priestman, Officer-in-Charge, of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board in New Orleans, announced today that Jules Arceneaux was the first seventeen year old boy from Bay St. Louis to be sworn into the Navy under the new Naval Aviation program.

Before January 28 the age requirement for enlistment in Naval Aviation was 18 and at that time applicants had to be high school graduates. Under the new ruling boys between 17 and 18 who have graduated from high school or are currently enrolled in their senior year of high school are eligible for enlistment provided they are recommended by their high school principal.

The quota for seventeen year olds is limited and consequently the requirements are designed only to select the outstanding boys in high school senior classes.

Arceneaux, who attended St. Stanislaus College, was enlisted as an apprentice seaman, V-5, but will be designated a Naval Aviation Cadet when he is ordered to active duty at one of the Navy's aviation schools.

According to Commander Priestman, boys who want to become Naval Flying Officers should contact their high school principals immediately for information and help in making out their applications.

At the time Arceneaux successfully completes his training period, which will be approximately 18 months after he enters school, he will be commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve.

Dr. Davenport of the Baptist Hospital Plasma Unit will be in Bay St. Louis in the near future to conduct another Blood Donor's Clinic at the local Kings Daughters Hospital, under the direction of the Volunteer Civilian Defense Office.

It is hoped to receive one hundred pints of blood to be converted into blood plasma, one third of which will be retained for use in the local hospital for emergency cases, and the other two thirds for use of the American Red Cross and Baptist Hospital.

Volunteers for donating blood are needed and anyone wishing to become a donor is requested to register with the Volunteer Civilian Defense Office in the Court House and he will be notified by card of the exact date and hour of the clinic at the Kings Daughters Hospital.

With the war at its highest tempo, and with casualties increasing, large amounts of blood plasma will be necessary for the saving of lives, so don't wait to register as a blood donor.

Rotarian Agustin Turner is the founder and organizer of the first Rotary club in Chile (1923) which today has ninety-one clubs with more than 2,500 members.

Rotarian Turner has lived in Chile since May, 1915, when he went there as a Y. M. C. A. secretary. He knows the country and its people, and was presented with the decoration "Al Merito" by the Chilean government in recognition of his social welfare work.

This decoration is usually given only to diplomats and military men for distinguished service to their country.

GOVERNOR TO INVESTIGATE

Gov. Paul Johnson and superintendent M. P. L. Love of the Parchman penal farm, held a long conference on Wednesday of last week.

There has been no friction between the Governor and Mr. Love and their meeting was for the purpose of working out a better system for the 2,600 convicts and the 20,000-acre farm they cultivate. It is understood that the Governor and Mr. Love will have another conference right soon, perhaps this week. A full investigation will probably be made of the escape of 19 convicts a few days ago.

The 1942 crop on the Parchman farm netted the state $450,000, but it has been estimated by the Governor that less attention may be paid in the future to making money off of convict labor and more to the health and care of the men in confinement. Mr. Love states that he is using about 700 convicts as trusty guards and there has always been more or less opposition to that practice.

KING AND QUEEN GREETED

By Large Crowd at Annual Carnival Ball—H. W. Le-
Tissier and Mrs. E. F.
Fahey, Jr., Reign Over
Festival

Mr. H. W. LeTissier and Mrs. Edmund Fahey, Jr., reigned over the tenth Carnival Ball sponsored each year by the St. Josephs Academy Parents Club on Saturday evening at the S. J. A. auditorium.

The curtain rose on a spring garden with white picket fence and beds of spring flowers behind which were trellises riotous with roses. At the foot of the stage where the court assembled was a background of white picket fence over which trailed green vines covered with bright colored roses.

Music was furnished by the band from the United States Marine Base Codet School at Henderson Point. Adding to the interesting feature of the court were officers from the school and their wives.

After the entrance of the court the audience rose and all sang "The Star Spangled Banner" led by Mr. Newburger, leader of the band.

The train bearers to the queen Little Kinta Kergosien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Kergosien, wore a WAAC suit and Gerald Gex, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien M. Gex wore a soldier's uniform.

The queen who is known for her beautiful beauty and known to her intimates as "Princess" was looking most attractive in a gown of white silk net over white satin made with a tight fitting bodice and trimmed in gold sequins. With this she wore the regulation court mantle of white satin and cloth of gold with the gold sequins and with the Medici collar.

She carried the arm bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her jewel-encrusted scepter was a gold and silver affair.

In contrast to this but equally beautiful was the blonde Mrs. L. M. Gex last year's queen, in white tulle trimmed in silver sequins and carrying an arm bouquet of Iris.

All the maids wore formal dresses of the pastel shades and carried arm bouquets of spring flowers.

The following comprised the court: Mrs. L. M. Gex and Emilio Cue, last year's queen and king; Mrs. Leo Ford and A. G. Favre; Miss Elsie May Smith and Commander H. A. Andrews; Mrs. Walter J. Gex and E. N. Spence; Mrs. Dan Russell and Lt. (j. g.) Dan Russell; Mrs. Charles Clark and Ensign L. Edward Klotzberger and Walter J. Gex; Miss Rita Boop and Ensign E. P. Drier; Mrs. C. C. The following information should be of interest to all patriotic citizens when they are asked to contribute to the War Fund: "The American Red Cross Reports to the People," 637,000 service given personal aid; 4,000,000 pints of blood being collected; 70 overseas clubs for Army-Navy men; 36,000 nurses enrolled for Army and Navy; 35,000 nurses teach Red Cross Home Nursing; 30,000 nurses aides volunteer for duty; 72,434 persons aided in disaster; 2,500 survivors from torpedoed ships aided; 3,300,000 individuals trained in first aid; 20,000,000 overseas war sufferers helped; 1943 Red Cross War Fund, March 10-20; the national quota is $125,000,000; HANCOCK COUNTY quota is $5700.00.

It is not at all probable that Hancock County will fall short of its quota for 1943 but it seems a large amount to be called upon for and it is each individual's duty to see that this amount is forthcoming. Read the above and consider that this county has contributed to each unit listed there and is going to continue to contribute. If this county's $5700 can help in that many channels it is certainly a comforting thought to all citizens that they are a part of the greatest organization for humanity in the world.

News from the Production Department of the Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross is to the effect that sixty bed jackets have been completed and shipped off to national headquarters for use of the sick and injured soldiers in the hospitals.

From the Surgical Dressing Department comes the announcement that night classes for persons who are unable to attend the classes during the day are now being held in the Surgical Dressing Room in Masonic Temple Building, Second Floor, on each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7:30 until about ten o'clock. As it is necessary to complete a quota of 30,000 surgical dressings by March 30th, volunteers in this work are urgently needed, so please won't you come and help?

The safe arrival of thirty Red Cross workers in India and eight in Hawaii was recently announced. They will assist in the organization of Red Cross Clubs and work in hospitals.

First confirmation that American Red Cross relief goods and mail from home actually have been received by American prisoners of war in the prison camp of Zentsuji, Japan, came from the International Red Cross Committee delegate in Tokyo. Two hundred and thirty-four Americans, of whom 54 are officers, are in the camp. All were reported in good health.—Release of Feb. 15.

Blood donors are needed in order that the chapters desire quota of 100 pints of blood may be reached for the forthcoming blood bank which Dr. Davenport will conduct at the Kings Daughters Hospital here shortly.

CENTRAL SCHOOL P. T. A. HAS INTEREST- ING MEETING

The Central School P. T. A. met on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium with a good attendance.

The meeting opened with prayer by the President Mrs. F. J. Nelson and the President's message was read by Mrs. Harold B. Weston.

A report was made on the amount realized from the benefit picture shown at the A. & G. Theater. A special vote of thanks was given to those who attended especially to the Sophomore Class which helped in the sale of tickets.

The article "Three Faiths of the Free Man" written by Mrs. C. C. McDonald in the March issue of the Nat. Parent Teacher Magazine was discussed by Mrs. Lucile Anderson.

They really appreciate this article and should read it. It is more than worth the time spent in reading it.

Mrs. J. Roland Weston, H. Grady Perkins and Celine Ashcraft were named on the nominating committee.

The high light of the program was the talk by Dr. C. M. Shipp on the "Problem of County Health" which was followed by the showing of the reel "The Child Grows Up."

The group appreciated the services of Jack Bourgeois and Jim Evans in operating the reel.

The reception which was scheduled to be held at the close of the Founder's Day Program was held and delicious refreshments were served.

Local Board Takes Over
Management of Hancock County Library

On March 5, 1943 the WPA discontinued all support to and control of the Hancock County Library and at a meeting of the library board on Tuesday, March 9, the board took over the management of the library.

The following motions were made and carried: The library to be known as the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Free Library; All strangers registering shall deposit $1.00 and be allowed only two books at a time, the money to be refunded when the reader leaves town unless books are lost or damaged; all readers be allowed two books at one time and a fine of two cents a day be charged on all overdue books for each day overdue. A fine will be imposed for any book or books returned damaged and readers card shall be considered void until such fine is paid.

No change in personnel or location of library was made and hours of operation remain the same with the exception of the closing of the library at noon on Saturday instead of at 2 p. m. as in the past.

Book reviews will be held on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 8:15 p. m. at the Episcopal Parish House during the winter months and at 10 a. m. during the summer months.

An admission charge of $25 will be made during the hours of the review. The library will be closed in order to draw use employed to attend the review, because it is deemed important that they be posted on all current books and they do not always find time to read each book. They will be charged the same admission. Proceeds of these reviews will go to the purchase of new books and for incidental expenses.

The following comprise the library board: Mrs. L. M. Gex, president; Mrs. J. Roland Weston, vice president; Mrs. C. L. Horton, treasurer; Miss Louise A. Crawford, secretary; Mesdames Carl Marshall, M. W. Briggs, George Pitcher, Edouard C. Carre, William Watts, H. Grady Perkins, John Weston, Miss May H. Edwards, publicity.

The National Council of Catholic Women held the March meeting in Bay St. Louis at St. Joseph's Academy on Wednesday, March 10. The meeting was presided over by the president Mrs. John A. Green, Jr.

The president's message was read by Mrs. F. X. Fabacher and a very inspiring talk was made by Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch on our Lenten observances.

The visiting clergy were Rev. Father Thomas Lilly of Long Beach and Rev. Father Hayes of Pass Christian. The door prize was won by Miss Jane Lang of Pass Christian.

Refreshments were dispensed with because of Lent.

There was a very satisfactory number present.

GREAT PROGRESS IS BEING MADE IN BAY ST. LOUIS NURSERY SCHOOL

Great progress is being made in the Bay St. Louis Nursery School and there are daily applications from parents to enter their children.

However, there are still many who do not understand just what the nursery school is, who is eligible to enter and why some of certain ages may attend and others not.

The school is primarily for children of war working mothers who are necessarily away from home the greater part of the day. But often it may be just as necessary to take children from homes where mothers are doing certain types of work and thus releasing some other woman for defense work.

Quoting "When the defense, health and welfare office gets its program fully underway, it will probably provide care only for children over two years old," according to Charles P. Taft, assistant director. The office takes the position that mothers who have children under two should not work—it takes two women to relieve 3 mothers of such young children.

Besides, "You are using highly skilled women to take care of babies while less skilled women are being taught to do war work," he remarked.

Normally, children from 2 to 5 years old will be handled in groups of 30 to 50 in nursery schools, usually through the schools.

Most of the children involved are of school age. The main problem with them is to take care of them between 7 and 9 o'clock in the morning and 3 to 6 in the afternoon before and after school. Their care when handled through public facilities, will cost about 43 cents a day per child, including food.—Unquote.

A few children over five years have been accepted but with the understanding that if a child of five or under makes application and is otherwise eligible the latter will be given priority.

The best way to know your nursery school is to visit it and learn what is being done for the children of your community at the very small cost of 50 cents a week. Mrs. Harold May, director of the school welcomes visitors.

The school is located in the Webb school building in Third street.

LIFE AND LIQUOR

STEADY and concerted efforts of dries in Alabama to return the state to that unhappy chaos of prohibition already has shown results. Taking advantage as they did before of the absence of voters who are now engaged in mortal combat with an enemy in far-off lands, they are again pressing from every point in their drive.

From recent incidents in this county alone, we can judge that the result will be no more pleasant than it was before when law enforcement officers risked their lives in the hills raiding hidden distilleries, when officers shot down men without warning because they were engaged in moonshining. That was a bloody period which we hoped never would come back when the 20th amendment to our national Constitution was approved and Alabama worked out its state store system.

When Etowah County voted dry, the problem in this county immediately became more acute, as had been anticipated. Since then our law enforcement agents have flitted several times with death. At times an arrest is no casual business. The officer's life is in his hands. It is tragic to think an officer might lose his life over a pint of whiskey.

One period of prohibition has not satisfied us; now we seem intent upon another, heedless of consequences as usual. And the consequences, we can be certain, will be the same bitter fruit of the previous era.—Anniston (Ala.) Star.

FREE CHOICE MEANS PROGRESS

A BASIC principle of democracy is free choice. Significantly, extremists who urge adoption of broad compulsory health programs give scant attention to that basic principle.

Free choice guides every act in our daily lives. We can go to the church we choose, we can buy groceries from whom we please, we can choose the car in which we ride, we can say what we choose, we can choose the schools we wish to attend.

Whenever we abandon the principle of free choice, we hurt no one but ourselves. And that goes for medical service. Free choice of a doctor automatically encourages medical competence. The most qualified are the most patronized. As a result, every doctor is spurred on to achieve the reputation of being a good doctor. This incentive or whatever you wish to call it, is the background of every doctor's training. It embodies more than mere financial success. Pride of accomplishment, the heart-warming feeling that people come to him because they believe in him, these are part of the incentive inspired by free choice which governs the career of the average doctor. The same inspiration has been responsible for the miraculous scientific discoveries that have come from research laboratories of American medicine.

If we abandon the principle of free choice in the field of medicine, medical service will decline.

SURFACE SHIPS TURNED TIDE

FOSTER Hailey, writing to the New York Times, from an advanced base in the South Seas, says the major issue at Guadalcanal was never in doubt after the Japanese effort was turned back in "the bloody sea and air battles" of mid-November.

He adds, "One thing the Solomon campaign has taught is that the day of surface ships has not yet passed—if any one except the most rabid airplane fanatic ever thought it had."

"Although the record of our planes against the Japanese ships has been much better than their planes against us, the heavy slugging war done by American surface vessels."

"The Bougainville express never came to a full halt until American surface vessels tangled with it."

Mr. Hailey points out that "except" for the original attack on Guadalcanal and Tulagi, carriers have not played decisive part in the campaign. The story might have been different if one side or the other had had carrier superiority, but as it was, carriers largely neutralized each other."

CRUX OF THE FOOD PROBLEM

THE president of a leading farm organization touched the crux of the food problem when he said: There has been failure on the food front. That failure can be traced to the failure of administrative agencies... Empty store shelves, empty meat counters, disruption of production and distribution, are the inevitable result. Now these same people express great concern over food shortage. They have not yet worked out with farm organizations a sound program based on the knowledge of farmers and their organizations.

Subsidies and laws will not create food. Only the farmers can do that, and they need manpower, machinery, and stability of government policies which will encourage production instead of keeping it in a constant state of confusion.

Give to the Red Cross. Lend to your government and serve your nation fully in this emergency.

Farming for Victory may become Farming to Eat; it has occurred in other sections of the world.

The Red Cross needs the financial support of every American who is given an opportunity to do something unselfish in connection with the war.

Every life should be balanced—enough, but not too much work; enough but not too much play, etc. and etc.

The Town Parade

By Chesterfield Skinner

Of course I can't do anything about the weather but it does seem that some one would take some action and bring about a change, so that these Victory Gardens could get off to an early start. It is a shame for some of these softies to dig and plant until they throw a "crick" in their back, then have a freeze come along, just as their rewards are peeping out of the ground, only to be nipped in the bud, so to speak. Of course, after that, all they have to do, is work for another "crick." The heck of it is, their purpose is to raise vitamins, for the pot.

Speaking of the pot, reminds me that, properly cooked, a good big bowl of potliker is as tasty a dish as any that ever graced the table. But don't get hungry yet, it now, because you simply have to have a ham bone to do it up right and your cast-off socks are going to make a poor substitute.

As I wander around in the stores, I hear a good deal of complaining about the harshness of the point system, complaining because you cannot get this or that. I want to tell you dear brethren and sisters, that you might as well buckle down to it, for you "ain't seen nuthin' yet." It is just beginning to hurt. Many things are available now, that will go completely off the market, shortly. Articles that we think we cannot get along without. But we will do without them and as the seriousness becomes more pronounced, I think we will complain even less. Most of us are too fat anyway to do with only three pairs of shoes yearly, so if we lighten up it will not take so many number 17 stamps next year.

Without being invited I attended the Carnival Ball Saturday night. Really, it was a brilliant affair. I enjoyed every bit of it. Just standing around looking wise and absorbing the atmosphere, quite naturally, a thousand thoughts crossed my mind. One especially that stands out in retrospect was—Why, for goodness sake, would, whoever does the selecting, pick a winner as natural with such outstanding beauty and charm in selecting and as well fitted for the role as they did the Queen and then gum up the whole show, by providing her with an old ugly, sourpuss, such as they had for a King. I just don't understand it. I just don't. They sure do not pick these birds for beauty or for any outstanding act of bravery. Every body knows this year's King, well knows that he is no beauty, that he has never been known to rush up and prevent someone from stepping on a grasshopper; that his proven ability as an outstanding community asset, is the crude way he bursts into other peoples conversation as an unwanted guest, or holds his glass at an improper angle, or remains seated when ladies walk into a room when he is present. In fact, I am in a quandary as to just what the requirements possibly can be that are paramount in the selection of the King.

I understand that the proceeds from the sale of tickets for the Carnival Ball this year was greater than ever before. This, to me is a fine testimonial, of the civic interests of the residents of Bay St. Louis, for it is for the benefit of a most worthy cause. If you are one of the few that failed to attend this annual spectacle, I'm telling you, you really missed something, because as the Queen said:

"I looked upon that bald head, O my King,
And much to my surprise;
I find that, instead of ridicule
It is your Crown,—I idolize."

ORTTE THEATER
PRESENTS
"EYES IN THE NIGHT"

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Production
Starring Edward
Arnold; Ann Harding

"Eyes in the Night," amazing adventure of a blind detective, who fights his enemies in darkness guided by his sense of hearing, and uncovers and captures a desperate foreign spy ring, brings Edward Arnold to the screen in a surprising role. The picture will show Sunday and Monday at Ortte Theater.

Teamed with Arnold is Ann Harding, returned to the screen after a long tour of South America. It also provides Donna Reed, former campus queen, and one of the "discoveries" of the season, in her most dramatic role to date.

Seek Invention
The story deals with the machinations of spies seeking the secret of an invention by Reginald Denny who plays Miss Harding's husband—Miss Reed is her stepdaughter. The girl is infatuated with a matinee idol, and when she is murdered, accuses her stepmother, who appeals to Arnold. The latter, with his uncanny sixth sense, traces the criminals, who trap him and Denny, with the two women, in Denny's home. About to murder Arnold, they are called when he battles them, using his sense of hearing in the dark, and a dramatic climax sees their arrest. Arnold is aided by Friday, a "seeing eye" dog, showing human intelligence. Miss Harding is beautiful and a compelling actress. Miss Reed handles her role with skill. Denny plays a straight dramatic characterization ably.

Fred Zimmerman's direction is deft. Other principles in the cast include Stanley Ridges, Allen Jenkins, John Emery, Barry Nelson, Horace McNally, Mantan Moreland, Katherine Emery and Rosemary DeCamp.

Over Nine And A Half Million Dollars

War news was pushed into the inside pages of the New York Times one Sunday last June when it published on page one the results of a startling survey.

This survey disclosed the disturbing facts that "82 percent of the institutions of higher learning in the United States do not require the study of United States history for the undergraduate degree" and 72 percent of them do not require a knowledge of American history as an entrance credit.

It is appalling that the study of the so-called American Way of thought and life has been neglected while every alienism and ology has crept in to undermine the greatest system of government and society ever known to mankind.

That this Republic may live and that the freedom of its people and the independence of the individual may be perpetuated, stick to America's historic traditions. And while our boys fight our foes on many fronts, spend sparingly, save wisely and invest in victory stamps and bonds.

explained the duties of committeemen and expressed himself as well pleased with the progress being made by this district's scout work.

The annual scout drive for funds is progressing nicely according to H. W. LeTissier, chairman and it is not too late to give your contribution to the scout movement which is going forward at a great pace.

"THE CRYSTAL BALL" AT A. & G. THEATER SUNDAY-MONDAY

It is a light, gay, sophisticated; it moves at a lively pace, with the emphasis on the love interest. Paulite Goddard and Ray Milland carry the two principal romantic roles. Everybody in the cast runs to Madeline Zenoia, a crystal ball gazer (Gladys George). Virginia Field, an attractive widow with her eye on Milland, who is a young lawyer, visits the crystal gazer upon suggestion of her maid when a ring disappears. The medium knows where it is, of course. She is a friend of the maid. Miss Goddard, broke, visits the medium hoping she will get help in finding a job. She does. The medium induces Cecil Kellaway to hire her as a sharp-shooting lure in his shooting gallery. The film runs billing anywhere. Elliott Nugent directed.

The cast includes Milland, Goddard, Gladys George, Virginia Field, Cecil Kellaway, William Bendix and rest Truex.

FUSES

WHAT ARE THEY?

Fuses are the "safety valves" of your electrical circuits and should not be tampered with. A fuse is simply a special metal link inside a screw-plug, designed to carry just so much current, and which melts or "blows out," breaking the circuit, when overloaded. That's why it's a good idea to have extras handy... so you're ready any time.

WHERE ARE THEY?

Know where your fuses are installed and where your extra fuses are kept. Then with these extras handy they can be easily used to replace blown fuses. This often saves delay and expense. Fuses are usually installed at or near your electric service entrance switch. If you haven't checked on this why not look them up today... and see, too, if you have the correct fuses on hand.

WHAT ARE SOME CAUSES OF FUSE BLOWOUTS?

OVERLOADED CIRCUITS—more appliances or extra lights added to wiring circuits than the original wire capacity allowed for. Putting 2-, 3-, and 4-outlet plugs all in one socket often leads to this. OVERLOADED APPLIANCES—such as starting a washer with excess batch of clothes.

DEFECTIVE CORDS—broken, frayed, loose cords caused by yanking from sockets, rolling furniture over, etc., cause bare wires inside to rub together, blowing fuses. Wet wires, from rain in windows, leaks, worn cords, etc. may short—and are dangerous. Check such things and remove before changing fuses.

HOW DO YOU REPLACE BLOWN FUSES?

Having traced and disconnected the faulty appliance or frayed or defective cord the replacement of a blown fuse is as simple as replacing a lamp bulb. Simply follow the directions illustrated below.

Locate the main cut-off switch at your meter box, and standing on a dry surface, turn off the electricity.

Unscrew the "blows out" fuse, touching only its top. You can tell it by the burned patch in the window on top of fuse.

Replace with one of the same size as clearly marked on fuse. Turn on main switch.

WE WILL BE GLAD TO ANSWER ANY QUESTIONS IN THIS REGARD WHICH WILL HELP YOU SAVE TIME AND EXPENSE IN FUSE REPLACEMENT.

I'LL GIVE MY ALL FOR VICTORY

MILK

PRODUCTION
ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT FOOD
FOR FREEDOM GOALS

The nation is calling upon American farmers to produce more and more milk. The 1943 national dairy goal is 122,000,000,000 pounds of milk. The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that even this stupendous quantity of milk will fall short of total needs by around 22,000,000,000 pounds.

Milk is the No. 1 product for better nutrition. Milk is essential for growing children. Milk helps to protect the health of all our people.

Condensed and evaporated milk, milk powder and cheese will keep for long periods and is shipped to our soldiers, sailors and airmen on the far flung battle fronts and remote fighting zones.

Farmers face many difficulties in trying to reach the 1943 milk production goal. Many dairy farms have lost a lot of skilled labor. Some dairy farmers have been forced to sell their herds. Others have reduced the number of cows they are milking.

Every available dairy cow must be made to produce to maximum capacity in 1943. Every farmer who has access to a milk market or milk route and can milk one or more cows is asked to join the forces engaged in milk production.

An Eight-Point Victory Program

The Mississippi Extension Service and county agents are emphasizing an eight-point dairy production program to reach the milk production goal as follows:

- Increase the number of milk cows.
- Practice better breeding, feeding and management.
- Raise more silage.
- Improve pastures.
- Sell all surplus milk produced on every farm.
- Keep production records.
- Produce more legume hay.
- Produce clean milk.

Dairymen are asked to keep in mind the two main factors in obtaining higher milk production per cow —providing plenty of good pasture, legume hay and silage, and liberal grain feeding.

The amount of grain that can be fed profitably will depend upon the relative price of the grain and the milk. When grain is cheap and milk is high, it will be more profitable to feed grain liberally than when the reverse is true. Dairy specialists say that many dairy farmers are feeding too little quality roughage to make the most profit, as well as to get the greatest production of milk possible.

Raise Plenty of Feed

There is no better way to reduce the cost of milk production than to raise and feed plenty of good roughage. Now is the time to plan for improvement of pastures and production of hay and silage. Pastures cannot be completely depended on to supply enough feed, so your county agent recommends seeding of annual crops for temporary or supplementary pasturage.

Another way to increase production is to keep the cows comfortable both winter and summer. Expensive barns are not necessary. The main thing is to keep the cows dry and out of cold rain and wind. In the summer see that they have shade and plenty of clean, fresh water.

Mississippians Must Milk 524,000 Cows

Mississippi's 1943 dairy goal is 1,470,000,000 pounds of milk. This compares with 1,376,000,000 pounds produced in 1942. To reach the 1943 milk goal it is estimated that Mississippi farmers will need to milk 524,000 cows, as compared with 504,000 in 1942.

Hancock County's dairy goal is 2,928,000 pounds of milk and 1200 milk cows.

Personal and General

WEDDING OF MUCH INTEREST OF MISS LEONELL ARCEAUX SOLEMNIZED SUNDAY

The wedding of Miss Leonell Arceaux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arceaux of this city and Sergeant Paul George Bernheim, United States Army Air Corps, son of Mrs. Paul George Bernheim and the late Mr. Bernheim of Gulfport was solemnized on Sunday, March 7, at high noon at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, the Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms and inside the chancel rail were a profusion of peach gladioli and stock and in the aisle were baskets of the same. Preceding the entrance of the bride party Frank Juden sang "Because" and "Ave Maria." The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played by Brother Romuald for the processional and Mendelssohn's march for the recessional.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and was a beautiful picture of youth in a gown of white brocade tulle and lace made with a sweetheart neck and long train. The long off-the-face veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a drooping bouquet of gardenias and sweet peas centered with an orchid.

She had as her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Bobbye Arceaux who wore a gown of Nile green marquisette over tulle and with the shoulder length veil held by a tiara of four Tailsman rose buds and carried an arm bouquet of the same flowers.

Her maids were Miss Eleanor Bernheim, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a gown of pastel lavender; Miss Virginia Edwards, of Gulfport, who wore the flower blue; Miss Andree Menou, of Iota, Louisiana, aunt of the bride, who wore pastel peach; and Miss June Gillis of Gulfport, who wore maize. All the gowns were of marquisette over tulle, fashioned as the bride's and worn with the shoulder length veils and silk mits of the same shade of the dresses. Misses Bernheim and Edwards wore the Juliette caps of yellow daisies and carried bouquets of the same flowers and Misses Gillis and Menou wore the Juliette caps of the white daisies with the bouquets of the same flowers.

The junior maids, Jeanne and Nannette Arceaux, young sisters of the bride, wore the floor length, dresses of flowered tulle and carried the spray bouquets of white spring flowers.

Sergeant Bernheim had as his best man his brother Richard Bernheim and as groomsmen Mr. Quinette Gillis and Sergeant Sidney Rice of Gulfport and Donald and Menou Arceaux and as usher J. D. Horlock, Jr., of Bay St. Louis. All of the men wore the black cut-away coats and striped trousers.

A reception was held at Hotel Reed where Mrs. Arceaux was receiving in a lovely spring model of frey chiffon worn with a large picture hat and a corsage of red roses. Receiving with her was the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bernheim who wore black sheer with a corsage of lavender blossoms.

For traveling the bride wore an ice blue wool suit worn with a dark blue hat and blue accessories. The bride is a graduate of Saint Joseph's Academy and of Mississippi State College for Women and was a general social favorite. She was voted "The Favorite" by the student body at college.

Sergeant Bernheim is a graduate of Gulfport High and took his college education at Mississippi State and is an instructor at Keesler Field. The many friends of the bride and the Echo are wishing for them many years of cloudless skies with good sailing and with the pilot at the wheel to the end.
